Deputy Editor: Matthew Hill Deputy Editor: Raoul Heinrichs Dina Esfandiary John Hemmings Sheryn Lee H and an off the shelf fleet doesn't quite stack up, what should Canberra do? needs to develop anti-ship missiles to keep up with other nations in Asia? Do you Matthew Hill is a PhD candidate at Cornell University and Deputy Editor of Pnyx Blog Do you feel this is the right approach? Would a home grown diesel submarine with advanced AIP capabilities work better? With Canberra scheduled to introduce 12 new submarines over the next few decades, Dr. of the commitments it accepts and what they mean for its long-term political relationship with Harry's solution echoes the strategic agenda advocated by several commentators, myself included: Washington's allies must seek to bind the U.S. That would mean allowing others to do the balancing on our behalf, preserving the best possible relations with each major player without over-committing to any thereby minimising the risks to ourselves of being dragged prematurely into conflict or intense competition. Whether this is possible will obviously depend on specific design parameters of the platforms themselves, and in particular on whether they can operate far enough forward to thwart inter-archipelagic supply lines and fulfil Australia's longstanding strategic objectives in Southeast Asia. President Barack Obama reviews Australia's Federation Guard, November 2011 Thomas Pinkerton: How do you view the recent visit by U.S.
