There are three problems, however.

Geography dictates that the U.S.

and survivability by dispersing them on a greater number of smaller, more stealthy platforms.

More immediately, as I wrote in The Diplomat, the atmosphere of veneration in which Obama strategic primacy in Asia.

So, while it s very important, I m not holding my breath.

if not strengthened it.

Finally, and perhaps most importantly, the fundamental rationale for a powerful submarine fleet is to augment Australia s independent strategic weight that is, to fulfil Canberra s longstanding requirement of being able to defend the Australian continent without relying on the combat forces of another country.

In war, by prosecuting sea-denial operations within or beyond the archipelago to Australia s north, they drive up the costs and risks of power projection in areas that could become staging points for an attack on Australia.

primacy fades, Canberra could find itself either having to assume a much greater burden on behalf of the alliance or learning to expect much less out of it or, perhaps, both at once.
