In war, by prosecuting sea-denial operations within or beyond the archipelago to Australia's north, they drive up the costs and risks of power projection in areas that could become staging points for an attack on Australia.

and, in my view, unfortunate organizational preference.

So, while it's very important, I'm not holding my breath.

Finally, and perhaps most importantly, the fundamental rationale for a powerful submarine fleet is to augment Australia's independent strategic weight that is, to fulfil Canberra's longstanding requirement of being able to defend the Australian continent without relying on the combat forces of another country.
